Hello

I am writing to who it may concern i am a CT resident for my entire life i am very concerned there is some miss guidance in regards to the up and coming gun laws that will be voted on in my strong opinion that are not going to address any of the gun crime issues the state of CT is trying to address i am a legal pistol permit holder in this state and do not disrespect that honor in any way by being reckless with my legally owned pistols and rifles whether it maybe a preban or CT other please take time to reflex on any and all new laws that will be written or voted in to law i think the laws should reflex punishment against the criminals who violate the laws against them have in there possession or use of them i am hoping you will understand the side of a legal gun owner in CT and remember there will be a time your laws will make legal gun ownership in CT a decision weather those leagl gun owners will make a decision to move out of this state and own legal guns in another state that does not target them.

Thank you for your time

Sincerely

Kevin Wills
